OUR CULTURE

At Waitaha Canterbury and Te Tai o Poutini West Coast, we are committed to honouring Te Tiriti o Waitangi and its principles by ensuring our partnership with Māori are at the forefront of all our conversations. We are also committed to putting people at the heart of all we do, so that we are all supported to deliver world class healthcare to our communities. This means we all behave with honesty, integrity and courage; doing the right thing by each other and our communities. We demonstrate care and concern for our own and others wellbeing. We believe that diversity and inclusion is critical to ensure we deliver the best care for our diverse communities. Therefore, we always respect and value everyone's differences. When making decisions we consider and seek a diverse range of viewpoints especially those from minority groups.

OUR TEAM ACCOUNTABILITY

As a member of the Allied Health Te Whatu Ora Te Tai o Poutini West Coast team, you will actively support and enable Waitaha Canterbury and Te Tai o Poutini West Coasts' Strategic Direction and the aligned Allied Health Strategic Plan, as a result this role has shared accountability for:

- Support and participation in clinical governance and quality improvement activities to increase collaboration, reduce and eliminate waste.
- Commitment and participation in system and service improvement and transformation to enhance equity and outcomes of the tāngata and their whānau.
- Growth and development of a more capable and diverse Kaiāwhina (Allied Health) workforce aligned with current Waitaha Canterbury and Te Tai o Poutini West Coasts' healthcare delivery models.
- Active partnership, participation and empowerment of our tāngata whaiora and their whānau through effective use of prevention and early intervention and enablement strategies.
- Implementation and utilisation of data and technology to plan, evaluate and modify the way we deliver efficient care that is timely and responsive and empowering our tāngata whaiora to take greater responsibility for their wellbeing.
- Encouragement, facilitation and utilisation of on-going feedback, data and systematic exploration and implementation of universal and targeted health care support that is underpinned by evidence and best practice, as well as cultural input and co-design process.
- Effective engagement and support of growth, success and development activity, including creating opportunities for other Allied Health professional groups to build capacity and capability beyond individual professions and clinical skill.
- Support and optimisation of professional development and clinical education through inter-professional learning, skills sharing, delegation, positive practice and a growth culture and behaviours to enhance inter-professional and person-centred models of care.
- Support, encouragement, promotion and celebration of Allied Health research, innovation and improvement across all professional disciplines within the Canterbury and the West Coast systems.
- Proactive performance management of staff including behaviours, attitudes and wider contribution to team goals.

MY ROLE RESPONSIBILITY

Allied Health Clinical Leader Nutrition and Dietetics provides day to day clinical leadership for the Nutrition and Dietetics team and clinical advice to enable the Allied Health Team Managers to provide operational management of the nutrition and dietetics team to deliver a sustainable, equitable and high quality service West Coast wide.

Also provides clinical leadership for the profession with a focus on workforce development, safe and high-quality care, outcomes focussed practice and integration that support strategic development and organisational priorities.

Provides Allied Health leadership to facilitate the ongoing development of best practice, continued service improvement, promotion of inter-disciplinary models of care and professional development, lead service delivery changes and practice development to meet improved consumer outcomes and local or national reporting requirements, and develop, maintain and evaluate organisational systems to facilitate delivery of safe, quality care.

Actively participates with the Allied Health leadership team, in the development and maintenance of effective systems of care and to provide expert Allied Health input into the strategic leadership and day to day clinical leadership on the West Coast.

This role also supports clinical practice and the connection between Health New Zealand and Dietitians at West Coast Health (Primary Health Organisation) and registered Nutritionists at Te Mana Ora Community and Public Health.

This role does not have a budgetary responsibility.

The dominant pillars of this role are Leadership & Management, and Service Improvement. Service need will determine if these roles are required to provide direct patient/client intervention, though the Clinical Practice pillar remains relevant through oversight and expectations of ensuring others are delivering safe and quality clinical practice.

Specifically, the role is responsible for:

- The day-to-day clinical, professional and cultural management/clinical leadership and/or supervision, oversight and co-ordination of staff within a team, department or service, as well as supporting/advising AH Team Managers with recruitment, onboarding, capacity planning and co-ordination, placement or allocation of staff or students (e.g. staff rosters, rotations and leave management).
- Contributing towards strategic planning and leadership within the department and/or service as part of the wider clinical and operational leadership team.

- Be involved in service and policy development by commenting, proposing changes, creating and/or actively implementing policy within the section, department, service, directorate or the whole organisation, including support to staff to participate in and contribute to quality improvement activities.
- Effectively planning and managing your own clinical and non-clinical time and time of others while working with other internal and external tāngata (stakeholders), managing meetings, projects, provision of nutrition and dietetic services, as well as long term strategic planning, with potential requirement to support profession-related conferences, formal programmes of education or training.
- Day to day use of general and specialty equipment, as well as training other staff and tangata whaiora on a safe equipment use practices, maintaining and ordering resources, stock or equipment while going through appropriate procurement and sign-off processes.
- Supporting and enabling education of staff through effective skills sharing and delegation framework implementation, both within nutrition and dietetics, and inter-disciplinary teams, including clinical or non-clinical skills development in one on one or group setting, and in some cases undertaking workplace assessments (e.g. assessing students or NZQA assessments for assistants, clinical competencies etc.), including support of recruitment and workforce development components.
- Offering basic P&C, wellbeing and health and safety advice and referral pathways for escalation when required, supporting P&C investigations and processes when required.
- Carrying out clinical / non-clinical audits, initiating, developing, co-ordinating and/or implementing research and development programmes and activities, as well as carrying out research and development work aligned with these or other programmes within the team, service or department, occasionally carrying out and/or participating in research and development, clinical trials and equipment testing.
- Professional leadership and supervision of clinical activity and practice, through provision of expert clinical advice, consultation and support to clinical practitioners, while working within professional or occupational policies and be accountable for own professional actions.
- Determining how certain national, regional or organisational policies, legislation and initiatives should be put into practice, and take appropriate actions as well as facilitate your colleagues understanding and integration to these.
- Setting targets and goals for the nutrition and dietetics service as part of the Allied Health Leadership team and supporting corresponding informatics processes, such as data gathering and reporting (Care Capacity Demand Management (CCDM), KPIs, incident management), and in collaboration with the AH Team Manager, having regular success and development conversations with all dietitians and nutritionists.
- Management of clinical case load primarily focusing on the provision of specialised clinical or non-clinical advice or information in relation to the care or education of tangata whaiora directly or through other staff members, responsibility might extend to performing assessment of clinical care needs (including diagnosing), development and implementation of clinical care/interventions or therapy programmes, and where the role includes clinical FTE, direct delivery of a health care service.
- Driving, supporting and/or facilitating projects and project related work, participation in steering groups and consultation processes.
- Performing other duties as instructed by your manager.

MY CAPABILITY

To be effective and succeed in this role it is expected the person will have proven capabilities against the Leads Teams leadership focus:

A person with this leadership focus is someone that provides leadership to a team of clinicians. Their core focus is to build and connect teams as well as grow and develop strong effective leaders.
